Died on the Train,

Emmett S. Crowder, a well-known citizen and merchant of Dlawiddle county, living near Ritchieville, some twenty-five miles from Petersburg, died quite suddenly this morning on a train coming to this city. Mr. Crowder was taken ill yesterday while visiting friends in Emperia, and this morning started to Richmond for treatment in a hospital. He was taken worse on the train, and died before reaching Petersburg. The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of J. T. Morriss & Son to be prepared for burial. Deceased was about forty-five years old and unmarried. He is survived by several brothers and sisters, two of whom live in Petersburg.

on July 28.

Before the last presidential election, by reason of the very small vote cast in Petersburg, the city's representation in Republican conventions had dwindled down to one delegate. It is now entitled to four delegates, because of the large vote cast for Taft. It is said that the Petersburg Republicans favor the nomination of Gillespie for Governor.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
FREDERICKSRUIG, VA., July 24.—
E. H. Randall, county surveyor of Starford county, is surveying a route for a railroad from Coal Landing, on Aquia Creek, in Stafford county, to Austin Run Mine, a distance of three miles. The railroad is to be used in transporting ore from the mine to Coal Landing wharf, where it will be reloaded on vessels for shipment. In the Corporation Court here, before Judge J. T. Aboolrick, bonds of the Piedmont, Freiericksburg and Potomac Railroad (narrow gauge), to the amount of $207,000, were burned. An order was entered relieving the railroad of all deeds of trust, save the mortsgare for $750,000, which was recorded here this week.

Dr. Edward F. Bigelow, of New York, editor of St. Nicholas Magazine, delivered a lecture on "Honey and the Honey Bee" at the courthouse here last night before a packed audlence, composed of the toachers and faculty of the Summer Normal Institute and the public genorally. The address was of great interest, and was listened to teagerly by the audlence.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BURKEVILLE, VA., July 24.—The unsold balance of a carload of Jersey meal, bought from a company of Cincinnati, sold here by Horner and Boswell, was ordered to be destroyed. It was found that the meal contained a large percentage of ground cornocos. B. Y. Purcell, pure food and dairy commissioner, appeared against the local firm before Justices Redford and Cabanis this afternoon. Boswell and Horner proved by letters received of the Cincinnati firm that the latter had guaranteed the quality of its meal to be in accordance with the pure food laws of the State, in consequence of which the fine imposed was only nominal—$11 each and costs. Commissioner Purcell states that the modus operand of the Cincinnati firm will be published in all prominent papers of the State.

BEBOUT.—Died, July 21, 1909, after a brief illness of tetanus (lockjaw), resulting from a splinter run in his foot July 1, 1909. E. RHEA BEBOUT, His death was a very sad one to the community in which he lived, near Glen Allen, Va., as he was generally beloved by all who knew him for his kindness of heart and the beauty of his Christian character. Always kind and considerate, he would not let his companions kill even a bug or worm.

His greatest pleasure was in reading good books, and especially the Bible, which he read daily. He had been baptized and joined Berea Church about one year ago, and was a consistent Christian, bearing his suffering with Christian fortitude, and was cheerful up to the time he became unconscious and died, aged thirteen years and six months. His father, mother and one brother survive him. He was attended by Drs. Winfree and Nuckols.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

QUARLES.—The board of directors of the Virginia Trust Company are profoundly grieved at the death of our vice-president, MR. MANN S. QUARLES. As his associate for many years—in fact, ever since the organization of this company—we desire to place upon record our testimony to his devotion to the important interests under his charge, his lovable disposition and manly traits of character. We shall miss his familiar countenance at our meetings. While this community has lost one of its most loyal citizens, we recognize that the blow falls most heavily upon his devoted wife and children, with whom his home life was ideal. To them we extend our most profound sympathy and pray that Providence may indeed send them fils balm of consolation in their great sorrow.

His father was Pleasant Barnes, of Nottoway county, Va., and his mother was Mary Shelton, of Charlotte. er. Peter B. Barnes, formerly of Richmond, now of Roanoke, Va.

His death comes as a sad loss to his many friends throughout Virginia and North Carolina, where he was widely known. He was ever patient, tender and generous, and was loved and honored by all who were fortunate enough to know him. He was a Christian of the truest type, proving his love of God by his love and service for his fellowman.

Although confined to his room for nearly eighteen months with the infirmities of old age, he illustrated nobly the power of his Christian faith by his patience and fortitude. His was an active and useful life. At the early age of sixteen he was elected County Constable, in which office he served for twenty years. He then served successfully as sheriff, commissioner of revenue, chief magistrate and school trustee, retiring from public life at the age of seventy-five. He spent three years of the war in active service, the last year being it, the reserve force. A singular coincidence is that his oldest son, William H. Barnes, of Keysville, served in the cavalry at the same time.

In 1844 he married Miss Susan Jane Bruce, of Halifax county, by whom he is survived. He is survived also by seven sons—William H. Barnes, of Chenenburg county; R. L. Barnes, of Linenburg county; R. L. Barnes, of Richmond; W. N. Barnes, of Chepel Hill, N. C.—by one daughter, Mra. Thomas Crymes, of Lunenburg county, and by thirty-eight grandchildrea, and two great-grandchildrea, His funeral at the old family buring ground near his home was extended by a large gathering of servicing friends.
